

Smartphone wooden speaker ExiToc

Smartphone holder + wooden speaker and fabric case

Features of the smartphone holder + speaker:

- Made of solid beech wood
- Height: 8 cm, Width: 6.8 cm, Depth: 8 cm
- Finish achieved through hand sanding without the use of paints or fixatives.

Packaging features:

- Reusable bags (22 cm x 20 cm) created from scraps and reclaimed fabrics, in different colors and thicknesses. The recycling process adds value by creating a unique and artisanal piece.

This gadget promotes circular and solidarity economy. It is inspired by principles regulating natural cycles based on biodiversity, transforming waste from one link in the chain into material for the next. We use biomaterial (beech wood) capable of quickly sequestering significant amounts of CO<sub>2</sub> and other greenhouse gases, ensuring sustainable sourcing through FSC certification.

We value "human diversity" by involving people with disabilities and vulnerable women in the production process.

The cellphone holder and its case come from the workshops of the Cooperative Esserci: Exito and Dui Toc.

Exito, social tailoring

Since 2017, the Esserci cooperative has initiated the Exito project, a tailoring and accessory production laboratory for vulnerable women.

Exito is a space for acceptance, learning, building relationships, and engaging in work within a protected environment.

It aims to create or recreate beauty through group enthusiasm, collaboration, knowledge exchange, and the creation of tailored works to better succeed.

With this project, we address both the theme of preventing and fighting gender-based violence and the theme of fighting poverty and social distress, as we have come to understand that these two issues are closely interconnected, especially considering the vulnerable and isolated women we have met.

Upcycling

We primarily use upcycling techniques in our production because we believe in the importance of recovering and reusing materials for environmental sustainability.

DUI-TOC, sustainable furniture objects

DUI-TOC is the name of the line of sustainable furniture objects made in the Day Activity Centers of the Esserci cooperative

Recycling, reuse, and beauty

Take waste materials and think about how they could be reused to build something beautiful, such as original furniture (a table, a shelf, a bookcase, a bar counter) produced with care and maximum ecological sustainability.

With the added value of being done together with people with disabilities who are currently excluded from the job market.

What we do

We create tables, shelves, bookcases, bar counters, musical instruments, wooden supports, home furnishings, and toys.
